

On behalf of the Lit & Phil I would like to invite you to the launch of Reflections of Newcastle 1914-1918, and the creation of three iBooks and city walks. We would be delighted if you could join us on one of the open days.

This will be an opportunity to view the three iBooks and take the walks, tour the Lit & Phil, and view live events and installations created by November Club at the Lit & Phil, Central Station and J.G. Windows, Central Arcade. Please contact the Lit & Phil or visit their website for further information.

Friday 1st July 9.30-5pm

Saturday 2nd July 9.30-4pm

Friday, significantly, marks the centenary of the beginning of the Battle of the Somme.

This Heritage Lottery Fund project has involved the creation of innovative, free and downloadable iBooks, which bring to life, via interactive digital technology, Newcastle upon Tyne during the First World War.

If you have your own iPad, please do bring it along.

Yours sincerely,

Kay Easson Librarian

Reflections of Newcastle 1914-1918 is a collaborative project with Newcastle College (digital), Northumbria University (research) and November Club (creative content).

The Lit & Phil's archives and collections have been the starting point for three narratives within the iBooks. Their creation would not have been possible without the input of Lit & Phil volunteers and student interns.

The iBooks invite viewers to explore the intellectual, cultural and social life of Newcastle during the First World War through three city centre trails – telling stories of Newcastle as never heard before.

The iBooks will be launched with free tours of the Lit & Phil and two days of live events and installations, created by November Club in the Lit & Phil, Central Station and at JG Windows, Central Arcade. Please contact the Lit & Phil or visit their website for further information.
